

Generative AI in the Loop: New Practices, Policies and Ethical Considerations

with Visiting Lecturer Dr. Bill Hart-Davidson

In this hands-on session, educators will work to create values-centered responses to each of the four areas:

- Writing Practice
- Practice Routines
- Cultures of Consent and Disclosure
- Access and Equity

This event is free and designed for faculty, instructors, GTAs, administrators, and curriculum designers dealing with Generative AI in some capacity in learning contexts.

Bill Hart-Davidson, Ph.D., is a Professor in the Department of Writing, Rhetoric, and American Cultures, a Senior Researcher in the Writing, Information and Digital Experience (WIDE) Research Center and Associate Dean of Research and Graduate Education in the College of Arts & Letters at Michigan State University. He has published over 100 articles and book chapters and is co-inventor of Eli Review, a software service that supports peer learning in writing, feedback, and revision. Bill's research and teaching focus on writing and feedback in both school and professional settings.
